

Steven Lopez

Head Trainer & Ranch Manager for Rancho de Esperanza

Steven Lopez was born in New York and grew up riding and showing Paso Fino Horses in Puerto Rico. Steven has been actively training and breeding Paso Finos here in the United States since 1994.

Steven trains ALL breeds from the ground up. For riders, he also teaches ground work as well as Western and/or Gaited riding disciplines. His Horsemanship training methods have produced numerous national-level show horses.

His core belief is that working with each horse's individual needs is the best method to produce top results. Steven also has a wonderful approach of training amateur owners and youth riders. His proven techniques have helped his riders and horses excel at regional and national levels.
